

1 TRANQUIL AND SERENE ENVIRONMENT OPEN TO ALL RELIGIONS

The National Environment Agency (NEA) has introduced Inland Ash Scattering (IAS) as an additional option for the management of cremated human ashes in Singapore, beyond the current options of storing in columbarium niches, storing at home, or scattering at sea.

The Garden of Peace is designed as an open garden setting. Designated lanes for the scattering of fine cremated human ashes are laid out, with trees and hedges between the lanes to accord families privacy, and to provide a respectful and dignified environment for the ash scattering process.

The designated ash scattering lanes, lined with a bed of pebbles, allow the ashes to percolate into the soil beneath. Families can gather, view and take part in the scattering of ashes in a respectful and dignified manner, within a serene and tranquil garden setting.

2 LOCATION AND OPERATING HOURS

The Garden of Peace is the first of two government-managed ash-scattering facilities and is located within the Choa Chu Kang Cemetery. There are 2 entrances to Garden of Peace.

- North gate is located along Old Choa Chu Kang Road, next to bus stop no. 31139.
- South gate is located along Cemetery South Street 18, at the junction of Cemetery South Street 18 and Muslim Cemetery Path 11.

The Garden of Peace is open from 9.00am to 5.00pm daily, except on days closed for maintenance.
